MINISTER ASSESSES PASTOR RUSSELL

Rev. Dr. Wallace Radcliffe Appraiser
 Head of Brooklyn Tabernacle in Sermon.

NEW YORK EVANGELIST
 DISHONORS CHRIST, HE SAYS

Capital Clergyman Talks on "Recent Mistakes About Hell" Before Large Congregation.

"Recent Mistakes About Hell," a sermon preached at New York Avenue Presbyterian Church yesterday by Rev. Wallace Radcliffe, pastor of the church, contained a severe arraignment of "Pastor Russell," who, according to Dr. Radcliffe, "dishonors Christ, refusing Him divinity."

"It is a mistake to think there is no such place as hell," said Dr. Radcliffe. "If there were, no hell we would have to make one. Sin must have its recompense of reward. The law of compensation is inflexible. There is nothing in the universe greater than justice. Hell is not a mere penitentiary. It is the natural and necessary dwelling place of sin; it is prepared for the devil and his angels. It is a mistake to comfort our sentimentalism with a few isolated definitions. You may have some confusion about hell and hells, but Gehenna remains. It is a mistake to limit its duration."

Hell is Everlasting. "Scripture is the only authority. From Genesis to Revelations it asserts its continuance. Its words 'eternal' and 'everlasting' are synonymous. If hell is limited, its heaven is also limited. It hangs eternally upon to-day. It teaches the law of retribution. To the wicked, heaven at any time would be hell. It is a mistake to enlarge the extent of hell—compared with heaven, it is small and limited. It is only a spot in the universe of God, a speck of the infinite, a mere nothing in the great contrasts with heaven. It is 'bottomless,' but not boundless; a 'pit,' a 'lake,' but not an ocean. It is a mistake to literalize its Oriental descriptions, but also a mistake to empty them of all significant meaning."

"It is a mistake to exchange the orthodox definitions for the assertions of cheap scholarship or vaporous or weak sentimentality. The church is confronted to-day with a revamping of worn out theories in the persistent preaching of 'Millennial Dawn,' also known as 'Brooklyn Tabernacle' and 'International Bible Students' Association,' whose leader calls himself 'Pastor Russell.'"

Hits at "Pastor." "His teacher was a haberdasher in Pittsburgh. The court adjudged to his wife a divorce with alimony for causes which caused the ungodly to laugh—a rather singular training for a Christian apostle. His success is a triumph of printer's ink. He claims to have found a long lost link to Scripture. He pushes aside all past scholarship. 'Search the Scriptures,' means only 'Listen to me!'"

"He dishonors Christ, refusing Him divinity until after the resurrection. To Him Christ has not been, and is not, God. His atonement is that of a mere man's. His second coming is already spoken place, and He with his risen saints are hidden on the earth. He has rejected the church since 1878, and Russell and his followers are the only church. He has nothing to say about the person and work of the Holy Spirit. "The man who dishonors Christ has no commission to His disciples to teach them the meaning of His words."

VALUABLES GONE, HE TELLS POLICE

Well-dressed Strangers "Lifted"
 Baltimorean's Watch, Fob,
 Stickpin, and Purse.

Clarence Nagel, of 1315 West Lexington Street, Baltimore, last night asked the police to find two men who robbed him of a watch, medal fob, scarfpin, and purse in an Avenue hotel late Saturday night. Nagel said he was visiting friends in this city and stopped on the way to Union Station for dinner in a well-known cafe. He was seated at a table with two well-dressed young men, with whom he engaged in conversation. Nagel left the cafe with the strangers and journeyed in several places. Just before midnight one of the strangers suggested that they get a room together. Nagel acquiesced. The three went to sleep in one room, the two strangers in one bed and Nagel in another. Nagel awoke just before daylight and found his roommates gone. He searched for his valuables. These he found with the strangers. The watch was attached to a fob made of a gold medal, bearing the inscription, "D. A. F. 6-mile Marathon." Nagel values the watch and fob at $50. His stick pin and scarf pin were worth $10 each and his purse contained about $5 in cash.

The Rubinstein Club is about to commence rehearsals for the world's greatest musical organization has demonstrated most fully its ability to please even the most critical of the Washington music loving people who have been fortunate enough to receive invitations to the club's concerts. Last winter the club brought artists conspicuous in this country for concert work, such as Florence Hinkle, Lucy Johnson, and others, and the prospect of the Choral Society coming to life and only a faint hope of the Washington community being kept alive, the Rubinstein Club is to be congratulated upon its vitality, and this splendid body of women singers should have the joy of supporting a worthy person in Washington. Associate member dues, $5 for the season, entitles members to three tickets to each of the five recitals or concerts given. Application can be made to the secretary, Mrs. E. A. Towse, 204 12th St. N. W., or amount of dues sent to Mrs. F. A. Gage, treasurer, 206 Legation St., Chevy Chase, D. C. Season begins October 23, 1936.

Lecture on "China in Transition." Dr. George B. Vosburgh, pastor for many years in Denver, Colo., and recently Dr. Greene's substitute at Calvary during the latter's absence, will return to that church this evening to lecture on "China in Transition." Since leaving his pulpit in Denver about a year ago, Dr. Vosburgh has toured the world, spending a considerable time in China. Present events there, Dr. Vosburgh says, constitute one of the most striking chapters of the world's history, and are yet not fairly understood by Christians.

GIBSON TO REMAIN AT POST IN HAVANA

Reversion of Appointment to Brussels Is in Nature of Rebuke to Cuban Newspapers.

An aftermath of the assault upon Hugh Gibson, charge d'affaires of the American Legation in Havana, by a Cuban newspaper reporter, came yesterday in the announcement at the State Department that Mr. Gibson's appointment to be secretary of legation at Brussels has been revoked, and he is reappointed secretary at Havana.

The chief purpose of this reappointment of Mr. Gibson to the Havana post is to remove any possible excuse for the charge, already made in Cuba, that Mr. Gibson was being transferred from that post because he conducted an charge d'affaires had been unsatisfactory to the Department of State. So untrue is this charge, which has been circulated through the press, that it is being rebuffed by the same media which attacked Mr. Gibson so severely following the assault upon him by the reporter. Mass, that the Brussels post was given him by the department as a promotion, as a reward for his efficient and capable work at Havana.

Arthur M. Beaupre, Minister to Cuba, on a recent visit to the department, pointed out that the transfer of Mr. Gibson would furnish the Cubans with a basis for attacking him and his government through the press an opportunity to gloat. The reappointment of Mr. Gibson will, it is believed, be convincing evidence of the regard in which he is held in Havana as he is held by the Washington administration. Edward Bell, who was second secretary at Havana, will be attached to the Latin American division of the State Department, and J. Butler Wright, now attached to that division, will go to Brussels as secretary.

SEEKS TO MAKE GOOD FILIPINOS

Island Department of Education Tells of Aims in Report—Many Pupils Enrolled.

To make good Filipinos, not good Americans, is the object of the system of education which the United States is conducting in the Philippine Islands, according to the report of the Department of Education of the insular government, received here yesterday.

"We are not trying to make good Americans of them, but we are trying to make good Filipinos of them, and we are succeeding. We have established as generally as possible throughout the archipelago an educational system which we hope will give the greatest possible number of the islanders the kind of education which will do them the greatest possible good—American education. Such is the statement of policy that is made. More than half a million children are now enrolled in the public schools of the Philippine Islands. They are being taught and supervised by more than 8,000 American and Filipino teachers, with practical courses of study from the primary grade up through the professional colleges of the Philippine University. The most important part of the work of the educational system of the islands is in the direction of manual training. At a recent exhibit more than 14,000 articles made by children in the public schools were shown. These articles ranged from mats, hats, and blankets, to the finest pieces of dining room furniture, valued at $50 each. More than 35,000 pupils are enrolled in the vocational courses alone. November 23rd examinations are to be held under the direction of the United States Civil Service Commission for the purpose of selecting teachers in the Philippine schools. Men and women are eligible.

To accommodate applicants for membership in the Rubinstein Club, a singing and dramatic organization, the club's director, applicants will send their names and addresses to Miss Blanche A. Felt, 204 12th St. N. W., before October 23, the first rehearsal of the season. Sopranos especially welcome.

BIBLE IN SCHOOLS.

Pleading for more definite spiritual and moral training in the public schools, Rev. Paul R. Hickok, pastor of Metropolitan Presbyterian Church, yesterday declared that insofar as the Bible was not used in the Washington public schools, the local educational system fell short of the ideal. Mr. Hickok was speaking on "The Bible as the Basis of Education" before the Sunday afternoon assembly of the Y. M. C. A. He said that Christianity was the only religion which showed any altruism, and declared that the recent exhibition of hygienic and moral character, the spiritual aspect never coming to the surface."

Walter Longbeach Narrowly Escapes Disgraceful Whim No
 Crashes Into Plate Glass.

NEWS NOTES OF ALEXANDRIA

Alexandria, Va., October 12.—Walter Longbeach, twenty-one years old, had a narrow escape from being disfigured at midnight last night when, it is claimed, he was shown through the large glass window of the office of W. A. Smart & Co., Incorporated, 17 1/2 St. N. W. As a result, Longbeach was badly cut on the neck, face, and hand by the broken glass. He bled very profusely. Longbeach was taken to the Alexandria Hospital, where his injuries were dressed by Dr. Llewellyn Powell. He is still a patient at that institution, but it is expected that he will be able to leave the hospital tomorrow, although he will be confined to his home as a result of his injuries for several days to come. As a result of the affair, Policemen Nicholson and Rawlett arrested Joseph Buckley, charged with assault. The case is to be heard in the Police Court in the morning, when the matter will be thrashed out.

To Investigate Tax Returns.

A grand jury will in all probability be summoned for Wednesday next in the Corporation Court for the October term, which will begin on Monday morning, Judge L. C. Bailey presiding. It is expected that the jury which will be summoned at this time will be directed by the court to investigate the personal tax returns made recently by citizens of the State Auditor—those who had requested the judges of the various courts throughout the State to investigate these returns, and in some places they have already been investigated, but the majority have not yet been examined by grand juries. There are about eight criminal cases which will be presented to the jury for its consideration.

Christian Endeavor Rally.

A large congregation to-night attended the rally service at the Methodist Protestant Church, under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor of that church. The rally took the place of the regular services, and the programme given follows: Song, prayer, Rev. R. H. Strassburg, pastor; recitation, Miss Mabel Hillary; song; vocal solo, Miss Janet Rissell; address, "Why Ought Every Church Member Be a Christian Endeavorer?" J. H. Trimyer; song; recitation, Miss Helma Bender; recitation, Miss Mabel Hillary; song; address, "What the Endeavorer Owes to the Church," Rev. C. R. Strassburg; musical trio, Messrs. Hoskins and Miss Kincaid, of Washington; song, vocal solo, Miss Janet Rissell; address, "The Importance of Committee Work," Frederick W. Ehardt; vocal solo, Marshall Doble; song; selection, church music; benediction, Rev. C. R. Strassburg.

Rally day services were held at 9:30 o'clock at the Sunday school room of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. There was a special musical programme, and an address by James R. Carter. There were awards to a number of scholars for attendance during the year. The members of the church held rally services at 11 o'clock, at which time a sermon was preached by Rev. H. M. Carter, pastor.

A thirteen-year-old colored girl named Young was picked up shortly before 11 o'clock last night in a drunken condition on Washington Street near King Street. The girl told the police that liquor was given her by a colored man. Later she furnished collateral for her appearance in court Monday and was released.

Within a short time contractors will begin the work of paving two more squares with asphalt block, one on Cameron Street, between Washington, and St. Joseph Streets, and the other on Washington Street between Cameron and Queen Streets. Ordinances for the improvement of these two squares were recently passed by city council, the majority of the property owners having signed for the work.

Extensive preparations are being made by the members of the local division of the Holy Name Society for participating in the parade which will be held in Washington Sunday afternoon next by that organization. It is expected that about 30 members of the local council will take part.

SERMON ON NABAL.

Rev. J. S. Montgomery Preaches on Ill-tempered Men. The man who is all smiles outside his own home and a brute to his family formed the subject of a sermon by Rev. James Shera Montgomery, of the Metropolitan Memorial Methodist Church, last night. He preached on "Lessons From a Bad Tempered Man." Mr. Montgomery said in part: "In Nabal we have a perfect picture of the bad-tempered man. To snap and snarl; to complain and to criticize are his daily passions. The fall of his mean, unchangeable temper crushes the kernel of his home joy and happiness. 'About the meanest man under the great sky is this man with a pair of rat eyes, boring at you without any emotion or human feeling,' says he, he is the littlest man of the species. 'Here is the prototype of countless husbands to-day. Sullen, coarse-tongued, low-browed. Many a wife sat up last night with tired and aching back and weary heart only to be greeted by such a Nabal. Yes, maybe the wife almost starved herself to give Nabal his supper, but her word to him is couched in dread-fear—a whisper like a broken sob. His temper poisons the home-life like a poisoned river running through a bit of wasted land. This is Nabal in low life.'"
